1. Course Description

Human rights involve substantive guarantees, meaning they are legally protected rights that everyone is entitled to, inter alia, including the right to life, liberty, security of person, and freedom of expression. These rights are enshrined in international law and national constitutions, ensuring their protection.

2. Course Intended Learning: Aims and Objectives

Course Intended Learning Outcomes	Teaching and Learning Activities	Assessments/ Activities
Substantive guarantees refer to the actual rights themselves, such as the right to life, liberty, and security of person, freedom of expression.	Cases studies/Academic writing(s)	Case notes/critical analysis/ research paper(s)
Understand how they are distinct from procedural rights, what are the mechanisms or processes in place to protect and enforce substantive rights.

Explore how through international human rights law, such as the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR), national laws and constitutions, substantive rights are guaranteed.
