COURSE DESCRIPTION

The elective would attempt to introduce the central concept within the psychoanalysis that is ‘Unconscious’. The purpose is to understand psychoanalysis as a critical theory embedded through its clinical practice. Tracing its historical origins from the study of hypnosis, hysteria, talking cure, the paper will help in understanding multiple discourse on ‘Unconscious’. I would like to offer insight into developments and shifts on the conception of unconscious from the lens of Jung, Klein, and feminists.

1. COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Critically understand the psychoanalytic conception of the unconscious.
- Understand the diverse perspectives within the psychoanalytic tradition
- To develop an insight into how psychoanalytic frame is applicable in the analysis of our everyday interaction- in relation to others & to various cultural practices

Classroom Punctuality and Conduct

JSPC conducts all classes on a foundation of professionalism. It is expected that students will be present in class and seated within five minutes of the class start time. Students arriving after a ten-minute window from the designated start time will be refused entry/attendance. A classroom is a place for free expression and critical thinking—students must respect opinions expressed and actively participate in classroom discussions.

Participation and Attendance Policy

This course focuses on both theory and application of statistics. Attending classes will help students understand and master these concepts and their application. Thus, we encourage you to attend all classes and avoid missing them until and unless very necessary. Students with less than 75% attendance will not pass this course.

Phone Usage

Phones are not allowed during classroom hours. The use of phones by students may result in their removal by the course instructor. Repeated violations may result in an academic discipline.

Plagiarism

In line with JGU policy, JSPC operates a zero-tolerance approach to plagiarism. The unacknowledged use of material by others within your work is a violation of academic integrity, and all reported cases will be investigated for potential disciplinary action.

Disability Support

JGU endeavours to make all its courses accessible to students. The Disability Support Committee (DSC) has identified conditions that could hinder a student's overall well-being. These include physical and mobility-related difficulties, visual impairment, hearing impairment, mental health conditions and intellectual/learning difficulties, e.g., dyslexia and dyscalculia. Students with any known disability needing academic and other support are required to register with the Disability Support Committee (DSC) by following the procedure specified at <https://jgu.edu.in/disability-support-committee/>

Students who need support may register any time during the semester up until a month before the end semester exam begins. Those students who wish to continue receiving support from the previous semester must re-register within the first month of a semester. Last-minute registrations and support might not be possible as sufficient time is required to make the arrangements for support.

The DSC maintains strict confidentiality about the identity of the student and the nature of their disability, and the same is requested from faculty members and staff as well. The DSC takes a strong stance against in-class and out-of-class references made about a student's disability without their consent and disrespectful comments referring to a student's disability.

All general queries are to be addressed to disabilitysupportcommittee@jgu.edu.in

Mental Health Services

The Centre for Wellness and Counselling Services (CWCS) provides comprehensive guidance and counselling services to the JGU community. If you are experiencing distress, be it personal, academic, social, or career related, CWCS has a competent and well-qualified group of counsellors available for consultation (personal and group). You can be assured that your confidentiality will always be protected. To schedule an appointment, call 83969 07312 or write an email to cwcs@jgu.edu.in

Safe Space and Respect for Diversity

This course may discuss issues that could result in distress or provoke emotional responses in students. To make sure that all students collectively benefit from the course, it is incumbent on everyone to maintain respect towards one another. All JSPC program faculty, staff, and students shall maintain respect for differences including, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age religion/spirituality, ability, socioeconomic status, and culture. Each person will be responsible and accountable for creating and maintaining a culture of respect at every level of the program. This does not mean that you must feel restrained about what you feel and say- rather it is about creating a safe space for everyone to speak and learn without inhibitions or fear.
